INTRODUCTION

The Grouped Interest Guides are produced by the Current Awareness Services of the National Clearinghouse for Alcohol Information, an information service of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism. The aim is to provide the reader with a regularly published series of bibliographic references for recent, topical literature in designated areas.

This Guide lists publications in the general subject area of Sociocultural Aspects of Alcohol Use and Alcoholism.

Bibliographic entries are annotated for assistance in selecting items most relevant to individual needs. At the present time, the Clearinghouse is not in a position to supply copies of papers included in the bibliography. Copies of the cited materials are generally available at university, medical school or larger public libraries.

In order to improve this service, comments are solicited on the subject coverage, the format, and the usefulness of this publication.

The subject areas presently in this series include:

1. Sociocultural Aspects of Alcohol Use and Alcoholism
2. Occupational Alcoholism Programs
3. Legal Aspects of Alcohol Use and Abuse
4. Animal Research on Alcohol Effects
5. Alcohol, Accidents, and Highway Safety
6. Heredity, Genetics, and Alcohol Abuse
7. Education and Training about Alcohol
8. Teenagers and Alcohol
9. Physiologic Concomitants of Alcohol Use and Abuse
10. Rehabilitation Strategies for Alcohol Abusers
11. Alcoholism Treatment Modalities
12. Drugs and Alcohol
13. Alcohol and Mental Health
14. Psychological Studies of Alcohol and Alcoholism
15. Statistical and Demographic Research on Alcohol Use and Abuse
